VOLUME XVII, NUMBER 112 — LA CROSSE, WISCONSIN, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1920 — PRICE THREE CENTS

FORTY CENTS RAISE IN GAS GRANTED HERE

Big Increase in Rates is Allowed by Railroad Commission in Order Made Public Today

RATES PRACTICALLY DOUBLED IN CITY WITHIN TWO YEARS

Second Raise Granted by State Board Within Period of Three Months

Under a decision handed down today the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin granted the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company an increase of 40 cents per thousand feet in gas rates in La Crosse.

The new schedule of rates granted the local utility calls for the payment of $2.05 per 1,000 for the first 5,000 feet, $1.90 for the next 5,000 and $1.80 for more than 10,000.

This is the second increase in gas rates received here within three months, the last raise being from $1.30 to $1.65 in June. Gas rates in La Crosse have almost doubled inside of two years.

In August, 1918, the commission granted an increase from $1.10 to $1.30, under an emergency order.

KOREANS APPEAL TO U. S. FOR HELP IN GAINING FREEDOM

HONOLULU, Sept. 4.—The Korean National Association of Honolulu has received copies of the documents presented by Koreans to the American congressmen touring the Far East. The plea of Korean women to America said:

"Day and night we will scheme to regain our lost land. In the minds of our children we will instill hatred for the Japanese. We ourselves will offer everything for liberty and independence. We would rather die and be free spirits of Korea than live and subjects of the Mikado."

The writing denounced the report of a Korean plot to bomb or kidnap the congressmen in order to create friction between Japan and the United States as a Japanese canard.

"Only from God on High and from you on earth can we get help. Will you hearken to our dying call?" said a statement by the Korean provisional congress addressed to Americans.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE: SAYS HUSBAND TOOK "AFFINITY" ON MISSISSIPPI EXCURSION

An affinity he is alleged to have met three years after he had been married, excursions on the Mississippi in which the affinity was a participant, and a court order interrupting a trip to his native land, Norway, are some of the high spots in a divorce suit started here today by Mary against Simon Hauer.

According to Mrs. Hauer's complaint, they were married at Cashton, Wis., July 3, 1906. She charges that he treated her cruelty and inhumanly from a date soon after the marriage.

In October, 1909, she recited, he became "infatuated with one Olga Peterson". When his wife remonstrated, the wife alleges, he promised to abandon his new-found love and be a "good and dutiful husband."

She alleges that on July 25, 1920, he took Olga on an excursion to Lansing, Iowa, from La Crosse—all of which was over her protest.

Soon after she filed her suit for divorce she discovered that her husband had arranged for a trip to Norway in which she was not to participate and to insure his being here to tell Circuit Judge Higbee all about their marital troubles she secured a writ of no exeat from Judge C. W. Hunt which made abandonment of the trip imperative.

Mrs. Hauer has retained Attorneys Cowie & Hale.

STREET CAR LINE ON BADGER OPENS FAR AS ELEVENTH

Market Street Cars Brought Down Town Beginning Next Wednesday

STUB LINES ABANDONED ON ENTIRE SYSTEM IN CITY

Important Changes in Service are Announced Today

Pursuant to announcement of the Wisconsin Railway Light and Power company street car service on the new Badger street line was started yesterday.

Cars on this line are operating as far east as Eleventh street, where transfers are taken to cars on the Myrick park line operating to a temporary terminus at Forest avenue and Badger street. Rails are being taken up on West avenue between Main and Badger streets to be relaid on Badger street from Eleventh to Forest avenue, furnishing the connecting link in the line. It is expected the through line will be completed late next week. The Badger street cars run down town and around the loop, going south on Third street to Main, east one block and north on Fourth.

Next week the Market street line cars will run through to the down town district, starting on Wednesday. Another car will be added to perfect this service.

Completion of the Badger street line and the change on the Market street service will eliminate the transferring at Twelfth and Main and Seventh and Market and give every line through service without transferring to Fourth and Main. This will also give five minutes service between Seventh and Market and Fourth and Main. It will eliminate 275,000 transfers per year, at Seventh and Market.

The Market street line will be operated by one man, near side stop, front entrance and exit. The Myrick park line will also have this type of operation.

STATE TREASURER OF MASSACHUSETTS QUITS UNDER FIRE

BOSTON, Sept. 4.—The resignation of State Treasurer Fred J. Burrell, announced last night, was the principal topic of discussion in political circles here today. Burrell, who was elected on the republican ticket last November, resigned as a result of a disturbance in the party that followed repeated allegations that he had solicited advertising from banks for an agency which he conducted.

In announcing his resignation, the state treasurer said:

"I do so not because I did any wrong, but because the pain and anguish of mind that has come to my aged mother and the members of my family by the unwelcomed attacks upon me has grieved me, and rather than cause them any further pain, I am sacrificing myself."

SOUTHEASTERN ASKS FOR FARE INCREASE BEFORE RATE BOARD

Petitions State Commission for Raise from Four to Five Cents Per Mile

ALSO EXCESS BAGGAGE RATE RAISE OF TWENTY PER CENT

Hearing to be Held at Madison Late in September

Now comes the La Crosse and Southeastern Railroad company with an application for an increase in passenger fares and excess baggage rates on its line running from La Crosse to Viroqua.

The railroad, according to official notice filed with the railroad commission of Wisconsin, is seeking an increase in passenger fares from four to five cents per mile and is asking for a raise in excess baggage rates of approximately 20 per cent.

Being an intra-state railroad company it is not under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission but instead is controlled by the state railroad commission.

The increases asked for, Superintendent Peter Valier said today are substantially the same as granted by the interstate commerce commission to the interstate carriers, in its recent order.

Hearing on the application will be held before the state board at Madison on September 23, at 10 a. m.

CARS ROT, RAILS RUST, PROFITS GO ON, ASSERTS BOONE

Vice-President of Brotherhood Declares Roads Get Money Regardless of Service

DECLARES ESCH BILL ACCEPTS WATER VALUE

Declares Government Share of Money Goes Back to Roads

"IT IS not to be charged," declared F. A. Boone, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen in an address at Riverside park last night, "that anyone got anything out of the passage of the Esch-Cummins railroad law. On the contrary, nothing was gotten out of it. This infamous measure which was drafted by your local congressman doesn't even get service. The cars can rot and the rails rust but the positive five and one-half per cent guarantee goes on just the same and the people will pay the bill."

Mr. Boone was the principal speaker at a rally the principal purpose of which was to present the workers' side of the Esch-Cummins law.

Two nights before Congressman John J. Esch delivered an address from the same platform and declared positively that the bill carries no guarantee to the roads.

Last night Vice President Boone asserted that the bill does carry guarantees to the private owners.

Miss Thompson Speaks

Miss Gena Thompson, Madison, sister of James Thompson, United States senatorial candidate, was the first speaker and spent a short time in urging the women to ally themselves with the La Follette republicans, maintaining that they represent the forward-looking group that has been responsible for the majority of the laws of vital interest to women.

Miss Thompson said the women will carry to the polls good housekeeping principles applied to government.

Miss Thompson contended that the fact that the state's schools are classed thirty-third in the nation, that our grocery bills are ever-soaring and that food is going out of sight in price, are some of the evidences of poor political housekeeping that will stir the women to decisive action.

Vice President Boone reviewed the history of railroading since 1900, detailing the various systems by which Pierpont Morgan and what he termed "the financial pirates of Wall Street" soaked them with water in place of actual value. He maintained that the vast over-capitalization resulted in such a drain on the roads that service and efficiency were reduced to a minimum.

U. S. Had to Step In

He charged that so great had been the failure of the private owners to "deliver the goods" that during the war the government was forced to step in to get freight moving.

"When they tell you that private ownership by these financial pirates is a success," said Boone, "just turn to your newspaper files of but a short time ago and see where the government took the roads over. Freight was tied up and France had a commission here to warn us if we didn't get the munitions and foodstuffs to the seaboard the allies were defeated.

"Your Uncle Sam stepped in. In thirty days every embargo was broken, in sixty days the government had freight moving and in ninety days the roads had reached a high degree of efficiency."

Mr. Boone declared that despite the fact that government records contained ample proof of watered value in many of the roads, the Esch bill accepts this valuation and guarantees a profit on the water.

Boone attacked that phase of the bill which provides for the railroad earnings—over a certain per cent—going to the government.

Back to the Roads

"They neglect to tell you, however," he said, "that not one red penny of this goes for governmental purposes but is put into a revolving fund to go back to the roads. In other words every dollar made can be put back into improvements for the roads and the people will be forced to pay dividends to the private owners in the form of increased freight rates."

Lenroot was "panned" by the speaker who said the junior solon had a good record until two years ago—about the time that profiteers decided, for patriotic reasons, that he should go to the United States senate from the lower house.

"That marked the beginning of the end of Lenroot's usefulness to the common people," said Mr. Boone.

The crowd cheered when Mr. Boone referred to Senator La Follette as the only tried and true friend of the average citizen in the upper house of congress.

"He is the watch dog of the people," he asserted.

Assistant Grand Chief H. F. Daugherty of the Engineers talked briefly on the various methods employed by Big Business to stifle those who dared to question their rights.

"You all recall the 'thunderous silence' that was put in operation against your own Bob La Follette," said Daugherty. "But it came too late. The people had heard and believed La Follette."

Re-Opening Of Wage Agreement Asked By Union

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—President Wilson today referred to Secretary of Labor Wilson the request of the United Mine Workers that the question of a new wage scale for the anthracite fields be re-opened to permit new requests for increases additional to those granted by the anthracite coal commission to be filed.

Mine officials yesterday telegraphed to Wilson a request that the wage agreement, signed Thursday by operators and miners, be re-opened. A telegram was also sent to Secretary of Labor Wilson saying that the mine workers stood ready to meet the anthracite operators separately or jointly.

RAILWAY MOTORMAN STRUCK BY AUTO FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Jack Ryan Escapes With Bruises in Accident at Fourth and Main Streets

MACHINE LEFT IN GEAR AND LURCHES FORWARD ON START

North and South Side Cars Collide at Twelfth and Main

An accident which might have assumed fatal proportions happened yesterday afternoon when Jack Ryan, local street car motorman, was hit and carried along the street a distance of about six feet by an automobile driven by Pete Johnson at Fourth and Main streets.

Mr. Johnson had killed his engine on stopping the machine to await the discharge of all of the passengers from the car. Leaving the machine in gear on starting, the car lurched forward just as the motorman was stepping to the pavement from the street car.

Mr. Ryan was bruised considerably and was taken to the St. Francis hospital for attention. An X-ray examination at the hospital showed that no bones had been broken, and reports from there today indicate that the victim of the accident would be able to return home today.

Another accident on the railway system took place yesterday when a south side car collided with a north side car at Twelfth and Main streets. According to reports from the office of the company today, passengers on the cars at the time of the accident escaped with no injuries. The cars sustained little damage, according to the report.

GERMAN INDICTED FOR FRAUD; SECURED BACK PAY OF U. S. OFFICER

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 4.—Theodore Schudde, a German, was indicted today by a federal grand jury, charged with defrauding the government by collecting $1,680 in back pay while using the name of Lieutenant Arthur Kincaid.

Schudde, who says he obtained Kincaid's papers in Germany after the armistice, was returned to this country as Kincaid and discharged at Fort Sheridan, where he collected pay due the American officer.

He was arrested at San Francisco.

Schudde, who claims to be a German officer, enlisted in the army as a private following his discharge here. He was arrested when a photograph of himself in a German uniform was found among his effects.

The grand jury took no action on other charges growing out of Schudde's action in posing as an American officer.

COX CARRIES FIGHT ON G. O. P. FUNDS INTO BADGER STATE

Democratic Candidate is Scheduled to Deliver Five Addresses in Milwaukee

HAS QUESTIONS FOR HARDING ON SUBSTITUTE FOR LEAGUE

Governor Praises Wisconsin as First Progressive State

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 4.—Invading Wisconsin on the second day of his western tour Governor Cox today continued his hounding of republican campaign contributions and his discussion of the league of nations.

Starting from Chicago this morning Governor Cox made his first speech at Kenosha following that with a rear platform address at Racine.

In this city the candidate will be engaged in a continual round of entertainment and speech-making, five addresses being on his schedule, the last at ten o'clock tonight prior to his return to Chicago where he expects to spend Sunday. It was the first day of the Elks' annual state round-up and the last day of the Wisconsin state fair. The governor's principal speeches were at the state fair at 1:30 p. m. and at Plankinton hall tonight.

In his addresses here Governor Cox asked republican chairman Will H. Hays, concerning alleged quotas in the "official bulletin" of the republican treasurer and concluded with this observation: "If you told the truth on the stand under oath, then Mr. Upham, (republican national treasurer), in his official capacity, misrepresented you. This contradictory circumstance shows that you are either a perjurer or Mr. Upham is a falsifier. If the latter be true, then it is your duty to discharge him as treasurer. If you do not do so then the American people can draw their own conclusions."

Has Questions for Harding

Governor Cox also asked Senator Harding some questions concerning his stand on the League of Nations. Calling attention to the Senator's speech on August 28 in which he said that Congress, technically, could keep the nation out of war, but morally could not do so, Governor Cox said:

"Answer this Senator Harding, yes or no. Do you mean that you are opposed to our assuming any moral obligation in our international relation?"

"Then in the same speech you say, 'It is not uncommon for the advocates of the League of Versailles to contrast unfavorably the Hague tribunal, upon the ground that the tribunal lacks teeth. Very well, let's put teeth into it.'"

"Please answer yes or no, in the face of your statement, to this question: Does the putting of 'teeth' into it mean the assuming of an obligation to exert moral or physical force, or both? In one part of your speech you say that this nation will not be made to appear as a "welcher" because no obligation will be assumed. How do you reconcile this with your program of putting 'teeth' into the Hague tribunal? This approaches the very crux of the whole argument and the American people are entitled to know your mind. There can be no evasion. It was possible in the Senate, for you to escape 1161 quorum and roll calls but you cannot do it either as candidate or president. You must answer yes or no. Executive duties, unlike legislative, make either absenteeism or clear evasion impossible."

Says "T. R. Favored League

In his statements supporting the League, Gov. Cox quoted from former President Roosevelt's Nobel peace prize oration in which Mr. Roosevelt advocated a league for world peace.

"You hear it said that we must not enter the League of Nations lest we jeopardize American sovereignty," said the governor.

"No greater American than Theodore Roosevelt ever lived, in spite of the reactionaries of his own party. No one can honestly question his sterling Americanism. Do you think he would have advocated a plan to break the hearts of American sovereignty? Never!"

Praises Wisconsin

To a rear platform crowd at Kenosha en route to Milwaukee, Governor Cox again flayed "special interests" which he said were "trying to buy a reserved seat in government."

"They are trying to buy it with money already contributed to the republican campaign fund," said the governor, "and with money they will continue to contribute."

Urging the League of Nations, the governor asked the Kenoshans to vote "as the American soldiers shot—to end the war."

Governor Cox declared himself the champion of progress, and praised Wisconsin as "the first progressive state," adding that many progressive reforms in Ohio had been patterned after Wisconsin's.

WILSON ASKED TO HELP FREE MAYOR OF CORK

Mrs. MacSwiney Appeals to President to Use Influence With the British Government

HUNGER STRIKER REPORTED TO BE MUCH WEAKER TODAY

Lord Mayor Completely Exhausted and Able to Speak Only in Gasps

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The reasons why the government will not release Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork are given in an official statement issued today. They are that fresh attempts would be made to "continue with added activity the long series of murders of policemen" and "would open the way to any person imprisoned for any similar offense to use the case of the lord mayor as a precedent with good hopes of securing release and the opportunity to repeat the acts which led to his incarceration."

LONDON, Sept. 4—Mrs. Terence MacSwiney has sent a cablegram to President Wilson in behalf of her husband, lord mayor of Cork, who is in serious shape as a result of a hunger strike which began August 12 in Brixton prison.

Mrs. MacSwiney asks Mr. Wilson to "use your influence with the English government to prevent the perpetration of an outrage on civilization." She declares her husband is dying.

Mayor MacSwiney was apparently weaker this morning and the prison doctors expressed great alarm. They advised his relatives that nobody should converse with him today.

The Lord Mayor spent a bad night, and this morning was pale and suffering from complete exhaustion, being able to speak only in gasps. The only indications that he was suffering severe pain, were that his brow was heavily wrinkled and his face was more shrunken. He was conscious, however. His brother remained with him during the night, and other members of the family are maintaining a constant watch.

Annie MacSwiney, the lord mayor's sister, on leaving Brixton jail this afternoon said her brother was at his lowest. Acting on the doctor's advice, she did not attempt to converse with the lord mayor, but read to him. As Miss MacSwiney left the bedside her brother signified that he wished to give her a message. She had to place her ear almost upon his lips to catch the communication.

Boston Protests

BOSTON, Sept. 4.—James T. Moriarity, president of the city council, as acting mayor, today sent Premier Lloyd George of England, the following cable message regarding the hunger strike of Lord Mayor MacSwiney:

"Overwhelming sentiment citizens of Boston that Mayor MacSwiney's death would bring crime against civilization, and repudiation of every principle for which the great world war was fought."

The Loyal Coalition announced today that it had sent a cable message to Premier Lloyd George asking him to ignore a message from Mayor Hylan of New York, urging the release of MacSwiney. The society asserted that the mayor did not represent any considerable body of citizens.

CHILDREN ARE TO BE EXAMINED IN THE CHEST CLINIC

Special Attention to be Given by Doctors to Little Ones in Tests Here

Children will be given particular attention at the chest clinic to be conducted in the court house on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 10 and 11. Believing that many of the ailments of childhood which may seem of minor importance but which will cause more serious defects later on, can be corrected by consultation between parents and physicians, the clinic managers have secured the services of children's specialists to assist in the examinations. Children must be accompanied by a parent or other adult at the clinic.

Dr. A. B. Schwartz, of Milwaukee, a well-known specialist in diseases of children will be present and will devote his entire time to the examination of children. Dr. Schwartz is a member of the medical staff of the Infants' Hospital and of the children's hospital in Milwaukee and acts as pediatrician for the Milwaukee county hospital.

Previous to entering practice in Milwaukee, Dr. Schwartz took special training which has qualified him particularly to deal with children. Following his medical course, he devoted himself to post-graduate study at Harvard University and at Rush Medical College in Chicago and taught for a year at Rush. While in the army, he specialized in chest work.

Dr. Oscar Lotz, director of the medical department of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, is also particularly interested in children's work and is on the staff of the Milwaukee children's hospital.

Parents are invited to bring in for free examination children who are anaemic or underweight or who have at any time been in contact with a case of tuberculosis. No child will be admitted however, who is not accompanied by an adult.

DESPERATE EFFORTS OF CREW S-5 AND NOT TELEPHONE RESPONSIBLE FOR RESCUE SAYS DESTROYER'S REPORT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—The United States submarine S-5 went to the bottom of the Atlantic ocean off Cape Henlopen because a large air intake valve failed to close when the "sub" made a practice dive, in navy parlance a "crash dive." There were thirty-eight officers and enlisted men aboard.

This was revealed today in the official report made by the commander of the destroyer Beaver.

The Beaver is standing by the battleship Ohio which today is towing the ill-fated submarine to the Delaware break-water, at the rate of 2 miles an hour. It is believed the flotilla will arrive at the break-water late today.

Briefly the Beaver's report tells of the accident and the work of rescue.

It discloses that it was largely through the work of the imprisoned men under the direction of Lieutenant Commander Charles Cooke, Jr., that they were saved and that it was their own desperate efforts and not a telephone buoy, as first reported, that attracted attention of the rescuing ship. The crew learned that the stern of their ship was above water. This supplied a ray of hope and working as they never worked before they gouged a small hole through the iron hull.

Through this hole they thrust a pole, a sailor's white undershirt tied to it, and wigwagged signals of distress which were seen by the steamship Alanthus, the first vessel to pass, 27 hours later.

Members of the crew of a destroyer which arrived at the Philadelphia navy yard after visiting the scene of the disaster, declared the accident was due to negligence by a member of the crew of the S-5. Officers would say nothing, referring interviewers to Washington.

"If you will do this you will have done more for the development of American political, social and economic intelligence, than any one thing you could or can do during four years in the White house," Mr. Christensen added.

SEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS AN ACRE IS TOBACCO YIELD

Remarkable Results Obtained by Housing Corporation on Green Acres this Season

A record breaking yield of tobacco was produced on six acres of land at Greenacres, formerly known as the Seller farm, on the State road coulee road, by the La Crosse Housing Corporation, it became known today when Manager Archie Olberg divulged the result of an experiment with leaf this year.

Approximately 10,000 pounds of tobacco was cut from this six-acre tract this week, and is now safely housed. The crop has been sold for 40 cents a pound or $4,000, netting the Housing Corporation nearly $700 per acre.

On other fields in Greenacres this year the Housing Corporation raised huge crops of peas, wheat, cabbage, rye and corn, the returns on every crop exceeding most sanguine expectations and attested in substantial style to the richness of the soil.

"I never saw a finer grade of tobacco leaf than that produced at Greenacres this year," said President Harry Dahl, who was raised at Westby, a tobacco center and has had considerable experience in growing leaf.

FACT AND FANCIES

IN the public debate columns there was printed yesterday an open letter to Representative Esch, signed by a former service man, E. W. Lyons, in which there is a good deal of criticism of Mr. Esch. In most part the letter is a statement of opinions, which its writer is fairly entitled to hold and to express. There are, however, certain purported statements of facts in the letter which are legitimate subject for criticism.

We would not, for instance, deny Mr. Lyons' right to his opinion that Mr. Esch is in some way responsible for the fact that the four-fold compensation plan for service men has not yet passed the senate. If he chooses to think that way one can only note the crippled logic which blames Mr. Esch for the actions of a body of which he is not a member, and ignores his untiring efforts in the house for the passage of the bill. Incidentally, it may not be amiss in passing to recall that, although Mr. Lyons seems to feel that the bill is inadequate, it nevertheless had the backing and approval of the American Legion after a nation-wide referendum of its posts and membership.

But in such assertions as that the Esch-Cummins bill "guaranteed the Wall Street owners of the railroad profits of six per cent on all their watered stock" Mr. Lyons lays himself open to legitimate criticism. It is apparent that he has not read the railroad bill, or he would never have ventured to make this sweeping and grossly inaccurate assertion. This objection to the bill, one of the chief points made by its opponents, was completely answered by Mr. Esch himself at Riverside Park Thursday night, when he explained the provisions of the act. We refer Mr. Lyons to the published report of the speech for the facts on the matter, contenting ourselves here with simply pointing out that the Esch bill requires the commission to set its rates to provide return not on "all the watered stock" of the railroads, but on the "aggregate value" of the systems as ascertained under the provisions of the La Follette physical valuation act.

We do not know where Mr. Lyons obtained the information which he says he has received "that the price of coal has just been advanced $2.25 a ton because of the freight rate increase under the Esch-Cummins bill." If his information is correct, it is certain that some other influence besides that of the Esch-Cummins bill is responsible. For one has only to look up the new freight rate to discover that the increased cost of transporting the bulk of the fuel used in La Crosse is not $2.25 a ton, or anything like it. Most of the coal used in La Crosse is soft coal from the Southern Illinois field; ninety percent of all the soft coal consumed in this city comes from there. And the increase in freight from the Southern Illinois coal field to La Crosse is just ninety-three cents a ton. From northern Illinois the increase is only 68½ cents a ton. If this coal is up $2.25 a ton the freight rate increase is responsible for a good deal less than half of it.

Nor is the Esch-Cummins bill responsible for the increase in freight rates. That was made necessary to meet the same increased cost of living which affects every business and individual in the country, and to meet the demands for increased wages made by the railroad employees. The Esch-Cummins bill merely prescribed the procedure to meet the situation. Esch-Cummins bill or anything else, the railroads have to have more income or quit. If it had not come through increased freight rates under private operation, it would have come through increased taxes under federal control. In either event the public pays.

Mr. Lyons also revives the hoary exaggeration that the recent freight rate increases will cost every family in the country a dollar a day additional, a Chicago Tribune writer quoted by Senator La Follette being authority for the statement. It is a statement well calculated to make the public mad, but we doubt if they wish to be made mad on misinformation. We presume they want the exact facts, and to be only as "mad" as these facts warrant.

La Follette wanted public operation to continue. So did we. However, in attacking the increased freight rates the senator has left Mr. Lyons and others with the impression that this is a net loss; that had government operation continued there would have been no increased costs. On the other hand, Mr. Esch is of the opinion that had government operation continued the current necessities which the government would have been obliged to meet would have far exceeded the billion and a half to be raised by the new rates, and that in addition two billions would have been added by taxation to capital account better to equip and extend railroad service.

In our judgment, based on credible information, the rate increase under government control would have been from fifteen to twenty percent. If we say seventeen and one-half we split the present raise in the middle and thus we have only half as much to be "mad" at as La Follette permits us to think. Unified operation would have saved us in round numbers $850,000,000, if operating efficiency were equal. As to the two billions which Lenroot and Esch say must be added to capital account an informed public would not shrink for the reason that the public will eventually pay this money under private ownership and under conditions by which the property bought with it accrues to the railway owners, and becomes a new basis of rate making, whereas under government ownership the property so bought would accrue to the state, which is the people.

Getting back to the thought that what the public wants is the whole truth and nothing but the truth, let us review for the purpose of analysis the following paragraph from Senator La Follette's editorial, "The Interstate Commerce commission on July 31, accepted this tainted balance sheet showing the 'aggregate value' of the railroads to be nineteen billions, and based a rate advance of $1,500,000,000 on that aggregate value. This raises the annual transportation bill of the people to $6,000,000,000—or one-half of the actual value of the roads—and adds $1 a day to the cost of living of every American family."

The senator puts the increase at $1,500,000,000, and the total freight bill of the country, with the above addition, at $6,000,000,000. If, as he says, the $1,500,000,000 increase means that every family will pay $365 a year in addition to what it formerly paid, two things follow:

(1) Under the old rate every family was paying out of the family income a total of $1,095 per year for freight alone.

(2) Under the new rate every family must pay a total of $1,460 per year for freight alone.

In other words, a man who draws $30 per week pays all but $100 of his yearly earnings for freight, leaving only $100 for all other items in the family budget.

Do you believe it?

Even $15,000,000 wouldn't stimulate a campaign much in these days of high prices.

Short Story

THE GUARDIAN OF PRUDENCE

By R. RAY BAKER.

Calculating by the calendar, Benson Nortair was not an old man; but figure it in miles and he was.

No, it was not years that made Benson old, for he was not more than thirty. He was old in wisdom born of roving the world, suffering hardships in many lands, making money and losing it, losing health and regaining it.

At thirty Benson had "settled down" in the wild west, choosing Hermonoside as his permanent abode. Hermonoside was west geographically. It was not wild because of cowboys and bad men, but due to the dense forests and the mountain ridge that isolated it.

Hermonoside consisted of twenty-five crude frame dwellings and a trio of stores that were little more than trading posts, grouped on a lower slope of Mount Kennedy. The trapping industry was to blame for Hermonoside's coming into existence and it was named after the man who founded the colony.

But the trapping industry was too industrious, and the government stepped in with some laws intended to prevent the fur-bearing animals from becoming extinct. Hermonoside did not die, however, because its population consisted principally of people who never felt a desire to rove, or who, like Benson, had roved to their heart's content and were willing to spend the remainder of their span of life far away from bright lights.

Of course there is a girl in the story. Her name was Prudence Wilding, and she was Benson's ward, made so by the last expressed wish of her father as he lay on his deathbed in his Hermonoside shanty.

That was four years ago, when he was twenty-six and looked ten more. Prudence at that time was sixteen.

Benson's first act as guardian was to arrange for a widow of the colony to serve as a companion and teacher. The widow had once taught in a girl's school in the East, coming West on the advice of her physician. With the aid of two strong hands, a hammer, nails and a saw, and some money left by Jake Wilding, Benson built a warm, comfortable dwelling and installed Prudence and her companion in it.

In the succeeding four years the Wilding money gave out and Benson replenished it from his own snug little hoard, which he had brought with him to Hermonoside. Now he earned a subsistence by tilling his twenty-five acres of soil.

In those four years Benson changed little, except that gray hairs became more plentiful and he developed moody spells and took to gazing gloomily out the window and smoking quantities of dark, smelly tobacco.

Prudence changed a great deal. From a promising bud she had developed into a rosy spring blossom, and the Hermonoside youths began casting shy appraising glances in her direction. Soon the glances became less shy and Benson became more worried.

Benson was in love with his ward. It would never do to harbor serious thoughts concerning Prudence and himself, because of his age and his guardianship. Nothing could ever come of it, of course, he told himself repeatedly, and he never allowed himself to think of marriage. Hence the moody spells and the gloomy gazing from the window.

Benson was reasonable. He knew Prudence was bound to have love affairs and to marry some day, but he dreaded that day. It had got to the point where Benson lived for his ward.

Prudence made a confidant of Benson, as she had of her father. She told him about her feelings toward the young men of Hermonoside, of whom there were few and still fewer who could be classed as desirables. In fact, the number had simmered down to two.

Finally came the day in Prudence's life that would have been considered an important day in the life of most any girl. She received proposals, only three hours apart, from both of the two desirables. That evening she came to Benson's cabin and told him about it.

"What'll I do?" she implored, on the verge of tears.

"Only one thing to do," said Benson, filling his pipe, which had been idle half an hour while he had partook of his evening meal. "The only thing to do is to accept the one you like the most and reject the other."

"And you—you—" Prudence asked falteringly, "would you approve of either?"

"My dear girl," Benson replied, "either Sam Johnson or Mark Hathaway would be classed as desirables by any girl in Hermonoside. Sam has a big farm and Mark, I am told, is an expert machinist, if he'd only go out in the world and follow his trade."

"Mark is planning to go East," she said, "and he wants me to go with him. I don't know what to do. It is an awful position to be in. I like Sam better than I do Mark, but I do so desire to see the world."

"Maybe we can arrange it, Prudence. Perhaps if you went East you would find somebody you liked better than either of these young men. Now, I have a pretty fair little sum hidden away, and I've been thinking it would be the proper thing to send you to some girl's school."

Prudence's eyes lighted up, but she became downcast immediately.

"It's fine of you," she told him, "but I couldn't accept your money for anything like that. Besides, I don't care so much about going to college. I have a pretty good education now. What I want to do is have a home—out in the world somewhere. But I couldn't accept money from you—not with you being my guardian."

Benson gave her a quick look. How many times he had wished he was not her guardian! But of course he was too old, anyhow, and she could never think of him that way.

He resumed his survey of the small part of the terrestial globe within range of his window.

"I wish—I—wish—" Prudence said, haltingly, "I wish I could make somebody understand things. I wish you were not my guardian."

Benson turned to her and forgot to draw on his pipe.

"Why?"

"Because—because—well, Benson, can't you see through anything? Can't you see I'm—Don't you suppose I think a lot of you? Have I got to go on eating my heart out like this, waiting in vain for you to give some sign of returning my affection? Don't you understand that I don't care for either Sam or Mark? Have I got to go on being your ward, and nothing more? Benson, I'm terribly brazen about it, but you seem so dense."

"Dense!" he roared. "Dense is no name for what I am. I'm dumb! Just because I'm your guardian—say, wait a minute! I'm not your guardian any more than I'm your grandmother. Come to think of it my job ended when you were eighteen, and that was two years ago. Prudence, do you mean to say that you would be willing to marry me?"

Prudence hung her head.

"I've been wanting to for a long time. I've been awfully bold about it, but there didn't seem any other way."

Benson turned to a coat hanging on the wall and returned with a time-table which he spread out before them.

"Let's see," he said, turning the pages with one hand, while his other arm crushed her against him. "there's a train leaving Delphia at seven tomorrow night; and if Hacksmith's flivver can make it in time we leave on that train—for the east."

Circus Clownings

WHAT MAKES FUN?

What makes a clown funny?

Step behind the scenes in a circus and ask some of the laugh-makers how they do it. They don't agree—not at all. But a few standard means of turning tricks into applause stand out.

Common every day acts done in unexpected and ridiculous fashion or at an unusual time, ridiculous things when something sober would be looked for, are raw material used by clowns.

To appreciate a joke or a funny stunt the spectator must be able to link it up with some fact in his own experience. It is for this reason that clowns do common things in uncommon ways.

There is something funny in thoughtlessness, too. The clown—or the boy—who tries to be funny and thinks about it seriously is likely to be classed as one who "acts smart." Innocent ignorance, simple foolishness and seeming lack of headwork are clownish traits. Combined with good humor they "take."

Watch your clown friend. He "doesn't know anything," does he?

Real clowns are like jokes—they turn up only once in a while.

FRANCIS ROLT-WHEELER

A month had passed after the close of the Juventon Camp when the Camp Treasurer brought in his financial report.

"It shows," he said, "that, after paying for the rent of the land, after paying for the labor that was used in the farming and gardening work, and the extra expenses for teaming, we have only spent one thousand dollars of the two thousand that we borrowed. Gardener John has not only fed the camp, but has sold vegetables to the extent of six hundred dollars beside. Martha has sold $200 worth of jams and jellies.

"We've got an offer of $2,000 for the buildings and we've got an offer to have the Camp Ground next year at an even lower figure. If we decide not to go back, we can clear more than a thousand dollars over and above all we've spent. If we decide to keep the buildings then we have no expenses next year and our total output has been five hundred dollars.

"We have been there three months, or twelve weeks, seventy of us, that's 840 weeks altogether, so that this camp has cost each camper less than 75 cents a week and we've got 2 thousand dollars worth of property in those buildings, to the good."

"We've depended on no one but ourselves, we've had all the fun in the world, we haven't had any serious trouble of any kind, and we've made good. The High School Boys and the High School Girls of Juventon, have shown that, with proper training and preparation, they can organize and run a community as well as any adult in any city of the Union."

And, with three cheers for next year, the Campers dissolved for the winter.

Strand—Blanche Sweet in "A Woman of Pleasure."

Rialto—Gladys Brockwell in "A Sister to Salome."

LA CROSSE

"Jes' Call Me Jim," Will Rogers' latest starring vehicle which opened at the La Crosse Thursday is peculiarly suited to Mr. Rogers' personality. In the role of Jim Fenton the happy go lucky trapper and hunter he is at his best. The story woven around this pathetic figure is wonderful and nobody but Mr. Rogers could live this part.

For those who want thrills, for those that want suspense, and for those that want heart interest, they can all be found in this picture. The supporting cast is excellent and the production can be rated as first class. A Bray Pictograph and Fox News completes the bill.

MAJESTIC

The boy had gone wrong, and had been doing time in Sing Sing. The girl had been waiting patiently for him to get out. She was very much surprised to hear him say, "now that I am free I'm a goin' straight." "What! Quit your pals like this?" she snarled. "Get out of my sight! I'm through!" That's the beginning of this intensely interesting story of "The False Road" starring Enid Bennett at the Majestic last times today. A heart stirring tale of an underworld love made clean. A Fox Sunshine comedy, "The Jazz Bandits," completes the bill.

BIJOU

"The Best of Luck" is a drama of the same magnificent sweep as "The Whip," "The White Heather" and "Sporting Life," although its dramatic surprises and unexpected startling incidents outrival any of these melodramas. There are some thrilling exploits in this photoplay. The cast headed by Kathryn Adams, including Jack Holt, Fred Malatesta, Frank Currier and Edward Connelly does some exceptionally fine work. For those that like melodramas here is one that is not lacking in any detail. A Lyons and Moran comedy entitled, "Why Lee," completes the bill.

CASINO

"The Blinding Trail" starring Monroe Salisbury is a picture of the frozen north, where might is right, where brute strength is the law. There are a number of thrilling scenes and the photography is of the best. Some of the scenes taken in a severe snow storm are the best that have ever been produced. A Mack Swain comedy completes the bill.

STRAND

"A Woman of Pleasure" starring Blanche Sweet is the attraction at the Strand today. She wanted pretty things, clothes like her friends had, to live in luxury. She married the rich man only to learn that he was a murderer. The price she paid for her silence, and how she married the man of her heart later, makes one of the most thrilling stories seen here this year. Episode number six of "The Evil Eye" completes the bill.

RIALTO

Gladys Brockwell returns in "A Sister to Salome" at the Rialto today. "A Sister to Salome" is an astounding drama of a woman's dual existence, a romance in which the final climax is a stunning surprise to the most far-seeing. It's Miss Brockwell at her best.

SEAMAN TO CARRY SUPERIOR AND ITS DISTRICT HEAVILY

Republican Leaders Predict He Will Make Remarkable Run in North

SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 4.—Following the great ovation and reception of Colonel Gilbert E. Seaman here Thursday, topping off a big campaign conducted by the Superior Seaman-for-Governor club, it was predicted by leaders that Seaman would carry Douglas county, Superior and the northern part of the state as it has never been carried by any candidate.

"Colonel Seaman will carry Douglas county and Superior by a greater majority than any candidate has ever carried this section of the state," Paul Clemmons, prominent republican here, declared following the departure of Seaman for Milwaukee Thursday night after a day of great rallies and enthusiastic meetings.

Superior welcomed Seaman with open arms. Under the direction of Senator Ray Nye, Dr. Victor Ekblad, W. H. Zwicky, Phillip Gannon and E. H. Blackburn as a committee Seaman made a whirlwind tour of this section of the state and clinched his standing.

He addressed six gatherings, two at large open air gatherings, one at a large plant, and the others at a gathering of Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, the Lutheran league, the Tri-State Fair and a large citizens' dinner attended by labor men, farmers, women, professional men and business men.

The northern part of the state, it has developed, is very strongly organized for Seaman.

SPARTA RESIDENT CALLED IN WEST MRS. HOLLISTER DEAD

SPARTA, Wis., Sept. 4.—Word was received on Monday of the death of Mrs. Helen Hollister, one of the old residents of Sparta, who died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Edward Shaw, in Oakland, California. She went there a few months ago for a visit with relatives. Death resulted from heart trouble.

She was the widow of the late Theodore F. Hollister, who died many years ago. After his death she cared for her aged mother a great many years. Since her death she has spent some time with relatives in various places. She knew the printer's trade well, having learned the same in the office of her husband. For many years she was employed in the Herald office at Sparta. She was assisting there shortly before her departure for California.

The body is expected to arrive on Friday in this city for burial.

The epidermis, or outer layer of skin, is as thin as one-nine hundreth of an inch in some parts of the body.

HULL FLAYS ATTEMPT TO GAIN VOTES BY FICTITIOUS CLAIMS

Denounces Scheme as Trick to Blind People to the Real Issues

MADISON, Sept. 4—Secretary of State, Merlin Hull, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, issued a statement in which he condemns the attempts of candidates to gain votes by making fictitional and unfounded claims. He also set forth some of the pressing problems before the people. He said:

"The over-shadowing question is whether we are to free ourselves from narrow partisanship and prejudices engendered by political rings and other organizations for selfish purposes and in a fair, honest manner take up the problems pressing for adjustment. The clap-trap method of gaining votes by claiming strength for one candidate or belittling the strength of another is a cheap and dishonest political trick, designed to blind people to real issues. Instead of helping people solve their problems, is serves to create prejudices which make their solution more difficult. Any candidate resorting to such tactics betrays the fact that he is not able to win on the merits of his own candidacy, but hopes to win in spite of his deficiency. Claims and statements issued during the closing hours of a campaign for purely prejudicial effect upon others are as dishonest as they are reprehensible, and in the interest of honest politics should be treated acordingly by the voters."

LINER AQUITANIA APPROACHES RECORD ON TRIP TO EUROPE

CHERBOURG, France, Sept. 4.—The liner Aquitania, which left New York August 28, arrived here yesterday, making the voyage in five days, seventeen hours and twenty-seven minutes. This is one hour and 27 minutes short of the record for the eastern trip from New York to this port, which is five days and sixteen hours, made by the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse in January, 1909.

The White Star liner Olympic, which left New York at the same time is now expected to arrive before tomorrow. Despite official denials passengers on the two ships considered the voyage a race, and it is said heavy wagers were laid.

TEACHERS SHIP AS "SAILORS"

BALTIMORE—When the schooner Purcell T. White docked here recently old sea captains gasped and shook their heads as two girl "salts" strolled down the gangplank.

The schooner was just in from Porto Rico, and the girls were Miss Jane Waters, daughter of the mayor of Bonner Springs, Kas., and Miss Georgibelle Musser, of Denver. Teachers in Porto Rico, unable to get steamer reservations for home, they persuaded Skipper Grant to ship them as members of his crew rather than leave them on the island for the summer.

"It was lots of fun," Miss Walters says. "No, of course, we didn't let our parents know how we were returning until we landed.

"Our chief work was praying for favorable winds."

AMERICA FIRST HIS CAMPAIGN SLOGAN DECLARES HARDING

G. O. P. Leader Would Guard Against Clamor, Insincerity and Abuse in Campaign

SENATOR EXPRESSES TOLERANCE WITH THOSE WHO DISAGREE

Won't Drag Attention of the People Into the Mire

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 4.—A determination to guard against "clamor, insincerity and abuse" in his campaign was expressed by Senator Harding today in a talk to a marine band on recruiting duty which serenaded his residence. The nominee said he felt it a duty to be tolerant of those who differ with him and not to drag the attention of the people "into the mire."

"I assume that your coming here," said Senator Harding, "is due in large part to the fact that I am a candidate for the presidency. It is because I feel more deeply about it every day than I want to tell you, American citizens, and through you, as many Americans as possible—my idea of the responsibilities of a candidate for the highest office the people can bestow.

"I have said to myself: 'You owe it to the citizens of America to preserve the attitude and the mind of one who serves as well as he can.' I owe it to the men and women of America to guard against all pretense. I owe it to them to state fully and clearly my beliefs with all the sincerity there is in me.

"I must not, as I seek to gain votes for my party, yield to the temptation which often comes to men who are candidates, to make false appeals and appeals which, though they might be successful at the moment, do not serve truth nor meet the requirements of our national dignity.

"I must not drag the attention of the American people into a mire when it is their whole-heart desire that their attention should be centered upon the problems which we all wish to face bravely and wisely and together. As I see it, I must concentrate my attention upon construction and not upon abuse. I must be patient and tolerant with those Americans who may differ with me.

"If I were to stoop to insincerity, to mere clamor, to political expediency, to appeals to special classes, I would be failing in that purpose which I trust shall always be mine; not my own interest; not even the interest of party first, but America first."

DANIELS APPROVES NEW WAGE SCHEDULE FOR NAVY WORKERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—A new wage schedule affecting about 75,000 navy yard employes probably will be put into effect on the first pay day after September 1. Secretary Daniels announced today he had completed his review of the findings of the navy yard wage board and the increases approved would be ready for application during the present month.

The Two Builders

In a Bushman village, two builders were disputing which was the cleverest.

"I," said Ndala, "can build strongly."

"I," said Ngala, "can build fast."

So they began to build a temple to the god, and they built it of heavy timbers. Ngala finished his in a day, Ndala in a week. Then there came a hurricane, and the temple of Ngala fell down. So the people of the village laughed at Ngala.

But, another day the two builders were on the road together and they saw a heavy rainecloud coming.

"Quick," said they, "let us make grass shelters!"

Ngala finished his in ten minutes and ran under his shelter and kept dry. Ndala had his shelter only half finished when the storm come, and he got wet. So the people of the village laughed at Ndala, too.

PROBE CHARGES THAT CHICAGO CUBS THREW GAME TO THE PHILS

Professional Gamblers Reported to Have "Cleaned Up" on the Game

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—President William Veeck of the Chicago National league baseball team, today began an investigation of charges made today that the Cubs had deliberately lost Tuesday's game, which Philadelphia won, 3 to 0, and that professional gamblers "cleaned-up" in a betting coup as a result.

Mr. Veeck said he had no evidence to prove or disprove the charges, but would make every effort to sift the matter to the bottom.

"My impression has been that there was less gambling this year than ever before," he said.

Veeck recently hired detectives to watch gamblers at the Cubs' park and more than fifty arrests resulted.

The basis of the charges in connection with Tuesday's game is that Detroit, Boston, Cincinnati and Chicago gamblers are said to have placed $50,000 on Philadelphia, forcing the odds on Tuesday's game from 2 to 1 on the Cubs to six to five on the Phillies. A few minutes before the game Manager Fred Mitchell ordered Alexander to pitch, although it was not his ordinary turn. Mitchell is quoted as explaining that he sent in his star twirler "because I wanted to win that game badly."

BUNTE CANDY FIRM TODAY INDICTED FOR SUGAR PROFITEERING

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 4.—Officials of Bunte Brothers, confectioners, and three wholesale grocery houses were indicted today by the federal grand jury, charged with profiteering in sugar. The grocery houses named are the Empire Grocery company, Hadesmann Brothers and the Henderson Taylor company.

Turtle-Dove and Peacock

Once the Turtle-Dove, gentlest of all birds, went to the Eagle, the King of birds, and complained that she had been unkindly treated in the matter of feathers.

"See the Peacock, and the Paradise Bird and the Parrot," said she, "How we all admire them!"

"Very well," said the Eagle, "I will give you feathers that outvie theirs, if you are content to give in exchange the gentle and lovable qualities for which you are equally famous."

The Turtle-Dove hung her head.

"No, I was wrong," she said, "I had not thought. I will not be envious any more."

Only a fool would exchange a fine nature for fine feathers or peacefulness for riches.

RICH GIRL GETS $20 JOB, SHOCKS, CONTINENT

MILDRED AFFLECK

N. E. A. Staff Special

CHICAGO — Seventeen-year-old Mildred Affleck, daughter of Chicago's millionaire Portland cement king, got several shocks when she went out to find out how the other half of the world lives. But she's "contented" now, she says.

She got a job at $20 a week "filing things" in Montgomery Ward & Company's mail order house.

Shock No. 1 was over the enormous amount of chewing gum the "poor working girls" consumed.

Shock No. 2 was that the other girls felt sorry for her. Not because she was a millionaire's daughter—for they didn't know that. But because Miss Affleck admitted when the girls asked her that she didn't have a "steady."

Other shocks Miss Affleck got included discoveries that "poor working girls" no longer wear cotton stockings and carry their lunch.

"Their idea of a good time is 'going out with a fellow and dancing and staying out late.' They talk of scarcely anything else next day," says Miss Affleck.

ROADS APPEAL FOR PROTECTION AGAINST "OUTLAW" STRIKERS

Ask U. S. Attorney to Stop Organized Campaign of Sabotage

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Railroad executives here today announced they had appealed to District Attorney Clyne to stop "an organized campaign of sabotage" by railroad strikers.

Engines are being stolen almost nightly and turned loose to run wild through the yards; Thursday night an entire train was stolen; strike-breakers are being beaten and one was recently killed; families of strike-breakers are intimidated and rooming housekeepers have been threatened with having their places bombed if their places harbor strike-breakers, the rail chiefs charge.

Nearly a score of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad men have been beaten in the past ten days, officials of that road said, while since Monday two yard engines and a freight train have been stolen and turned loose in the yards.

FELIX DIAZ AT HEAD OF NEW REVOLT SAYS REPORT FROM MEXICO

Followers of Former President's Nephew Active in State of Vera Cruz

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 4—Revolutionary activity by followers of Felix Diaz, nephew of former President Porfiero Diaz, has been begun near Misantla, State of Vera Cruz, according to press dispatches. Diaz, who was the leader of a revolt in Vera Cruz against the Carranza government, has not been seen since that regime was overthrown and it has been understood he had reached an agreement with the present de facto authorities.

Reports state that Diaz refuses to recognize the "Augua Prieta plan," repudiates the present goverument, and declares he will fight to restore the constitution of 1857.

Travelers from Tezlutlan, State of Puebla, and Jalacingo, State of Vera Cruz, tell of renewed rebel operations but are uncertain whether they are being conducted by followers of Diaz or those who support General Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of the late President Carranza.

ANTIS SEE HOPE FOR OVERTHROW OF VOTE AMENDMENT

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 4.—A certified copy of the Tennessee house of representatives journal of Tuesday when an attempt was made to rescind ratification of the federal suffrage amendment was in the mails today en route to Secretary of State Colby. Governor Roberts announced he had transmitted the papers at the request of the house.

Opponents of suffrage were hopeful certification of the house journal to the state department might aid in their attempt to have the United States supreme court overthrow Tennessee's ratification. They expressed confidence that sending of the statement would result in this record becoming a part of the evidence the courts expected to remove.

Suffragists, however, declared transmission of the journal to Washington would not affect validity of the suffrage proclamation issued by Secretary Colby.

WAGON MINERS PROTEST ORDER OF COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4—Owners of wagon coal mines protested today to the interstate commerce commission against the recent order restricting the use of open top cars by such mines unless equipped with tipples or elevations to facilitate loading.

The operators denied the loading of cars from wagon mines resulted in undue delap of railroad equipment. The commission's order was characterized as discriminatory and unjust.

A SOLDIER'S LETTER TO MR. ESCH

Editor, Tribune and Leader-Press.

Dear Sir: Mr. Esch, by various devices and artifices is attempting to convince the soldier that he is their firm friend. I am a veteran of the recent World War who recently was appealed to by Mr. Esch for an expression of opinion on bonus bills and the distribution of war trophies.

For the benefit of other soldiers who served with me, I have addressed an open letter to Congressman Esch which I request you to publish.

Lest I be accused of being "unpatriotic" for the opinions I express in the letter I am asking you to publish, let it be known that I have a record of two years and ten months spent in the service, fourteen of these months having been spent overseas, and today carry the scars of German mustard gas.

Yours truly,

SGT. E. W. LYONS,

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 1, 1920.

Hon. John J. Esch, Congressman from the Seventh District, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of a copy of the letter you are sending to all veterans of the War with Germany in your Congressional district, in your campaign for re-election to congress.

You inform me that you are in favor of a bill, now pending in congress, which provided for the distribution of German war "trophies," consisting of howitzers, mortars, field pieces, machine guns and lesser equipment. You assure me, as one of your constituents that you "hope to be able to secure enough of these trophies to supply each city or village in our district which has a camp or post of war veterans."

You ask me to advise you by December sixth, when congress reconvenes, as to my wishes in the matter, and I take this early opportunity to do so:

The soldiers of your district, Mr. Esch—like your other constituents—are not much interested in "trophies" of the late war. Several million American boys saw all they wanted to see of German machine guns in France.

What the American soldier is interested in, at the present time, is the high cost of living.

Several thousand of your constituents who volunteered or were called into service under the draft law, looked to you, as their congressman, to support laws preventing unscrupulous men from profiteering in the necessaries of life. These men returned to civilian life in November, 1918, to find that the cost of clothing, shoes, food and other necessaries had advanced from 50 to 150 percent.

The soldiers are particularly interested in the fact that you are the same Mr. Esch who wrote the Esch-Cummins Railroad bill. This law guaranteed the Wall Street owners of the railroads profits of six percent on all their watered stock. I am informed that the Chicago Tribune of August 4th estimates the thirty-five percent rate increase of July thirty-first, which your law ordered the Interstate Commerce commission to make, will cost every American family $1 a day in increased living costs, adding $365 a year to the cost of living budget of every family.

I am informed that the price of coal has just been advanced $2.25 a ton, because of the freight increase under the Esch-Cummins law, so that families buying ten tons of coal in your district during the ensuing winter will be taxed $22.50 for your vote on this measure, on the coal item alone.

In view of these conditions, you cannot ask the soldiers of your district, who share these burdens with all other citizens, to be diverted or satisfied by the awarding of German "trophies."

I am aware that republican candidates for congress blame President Wilson for failure to check profiteering, just as President Wilson blames the republican congress. But, I note that you were able to co-operate with President Wilson in declaring war, in drafting soldiers for foreign service, in passing the espionage law, and since the war in passing the Esch-Cummins Railroad law, which you wrote and the president signed. Your constituents are unable to understand why you should not also co-operate with any honest effort made to prevent the profiteers from gouging the public.

You mention in your letter the fact that you supported a "bonus bill" for soldiers and make this the basis of an appeal for soldier votes.

Ex-service men seek no bounty from the government. They would favor a bill giving them fair compensation based on the actual difference in their wages in civilian pursuits and their pay in the service. This would be a "compensation" not a "bonus."

On looking into the Congressional Record for May 29th, 1920, I find that Congressman Henry T. Rainey, a member of the committee which reported the bonus bill for which you voted, said of it: "This is a gold brick—a gold brick which will be passed upon in the elections which are about to ensue. You know the senate is not going to pass this bill. You know this is not going to become a law."

Mr. Rainey also pointed out that the bill, instead of providing for a liberal bonus as you contend, actually gave 55 cents a day to soldiers who served two years and six months; 15 cents a day to the 2,400,000 men who served less than 210 days, and 7 cents a day to the 500,000 men who served for a shorter period. For support of this bill, you ask the soldiers to support you for re-election in the primaries September 7th, against your opponent, Joseph D. Beck, who is specifically pledged to secure fair compensation, not in the nature of a bonus, but equalizing civilian and service pay, for the soldiers, sailors and marines.

Even if you secure the passage of a generous "bonus" bill, the soldiers would gain nothing, because the increased cost of living, under the Esch-Cummins law is eating up $1 per day of every family's money.

The people of your district desire neither "trophies" nor "bonuses". The soldier will join on September seventh with your other constituents to repeal the Esch-Cummins law by retiring from congress, the men who voted for it, after living costs had already been enormously increased through the greed of the profiteers, and the betrayal of trust by those who were elected to serve the public interest.

Very truly yours,
SGT. E. W. LYONS,
Co. C, 121st M. G. Bat.

DAILY MARKETS

WHEAT PRICES RALLY

Break Comes in Early Trading But Prices Rebound

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Selling by cash houses caused a break in wheat at the start today but a quick reaction due to some buying by houses with eastern connections, carried prices upward. After opening 1¾ to 2 cents lower with December $2.39½ to $2.40 and March $2.36, the market soon recovered more of the loss.

Rains in Argentine had a depressing influence on the market and this coupled with free selling later caused a reaction which carried the market below yesterday's finish. The closing was unsettled with prices 1¾ to 2¾c lower, with December $2.30¾ to $2.39½ and March $2.35½ to $2.36.

Corn prices held within narrow limits. Some professionals attempted early to advance the deferred deliveries. After starting ⅝c lower to ⅝c higher, with September $1.37⅞ to $1.38¼ and December $1.18¼ to $1.18¾ a reaction carried all deliveries above yesterday's finish.

September corn broke to a new low when there was free selling on the early advance but the deferred deliveries failed to follow suit, showing stubborn resistance to bear pressure. The close was irregular with prices 1¾c lower to 1 cent higher, with September $1.36⅞ to $1.37¼ and December $1.18¾ to $1.19.

Oats were dull and followed corn, the September delivery being weak as a result of selling, partly in the way of hedging which sent it above ⅛c under December, the widest discount so far. Initial quotations were unchanged to ⅛c lower with September 65⅛ and December 66c.

Provisions started firmer with hogs and reports of a good demand for lard.

Grasshopers Dash to Death

Mechanical assistance is now available for the farmer in his struggle to eliminate the destructive grasshopper, as a Wisconsin inventor has patented a device for trapping and killing the pests. The front of the contrivance, which is intended to be pushed across a field, presents a highly polished metal screen, slightly inclined backward in a rigid frame. Grasshoppers jumping against this obstacle are unable to obtain a footing on it and slide into a trough below.

Some Birds Are Long Livers

Some birds live to a great age. The age of ninety is known to have been reached by a gray parrot, and there are many statements of birds of the parrot family having lived for over a century. The raven also is credited with having reached one hundred years. The domestic goose is another long-lived bird. Many instances are known of geese attaining forty years, but it is not said whether they were fit for table purposes at that age. The ordinary domestic fowl is seldom allowed to die of old age, but in some country places old hens are to be seen that have been made pets of, and are allowed to remain until they are ten or twelve years old, long previously having ceased to lay.

PIRATE SLUGGER LEADS NATIONAL LEAGUE BATTERS

Nicholson Experiences Great Week at Bat and Tops List With .381

SPEAKER OF CLEVELAND TOPS AMERICAN LEAGUE

Konetchy Finishes Week in Good Record With .313

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Outfielder Nicholson, the Pittsburgh slugger, has taken the lead among the National league batters, from Roger Hornsby of St. Louis. Nicholson experienced a great period at bat during the week and is topping the list with an average of .381, among players who have participated in fifty or more games. The averages released today include games of last Wednesday. Hornsby did not do so well with the willow and dropped to .365. However he is well ahead of Myers of Boston, who is in third place with .338. Hornsby, however, increased his lead in total bases to 254.

Cy Williams of Philadelphia seems to have a hoodoo in 13, as he has not added to this number of circuit drives in the past two weeks, but still he is three in front of his teammate, Mensel, who has cracked out ten homers.

Max Carey of Pittsburgh stole three bases in the past week and is showing the way to the base stealers with 48. Burns of New York has taken the lead from Bancroft, a teammate, as the best run-getter. Burns registered 87 times to Bancroft's 81.

Other leading batters: Young, New York, .336; Roush, Cincinnati, .326; Stock, St. Louis, .357; J. Smith, St. Louis, .324; King, New York, .323; Hollocher, Chicago, .318; Z. Wheat, Brooklyn, .315; Konetchy, Brooklyn, .313; Fournier, St. Louis, .315; Myers, Brooklyn, .311; Williams, Philadelphia, .311.

George Sissler, the St. Louis star who was topping the batters in the American league, ran into a batting slump when the Mound City club invaded the east on the last jaunt, and as a result Tris Speaker, manager of Cleveland, is heading the procession with an average of .395. Sisler is the runner-up, however, only one point behind with .394. Eddie Collins, captain of the Chicago White Sox, has greatly improved his batting mark and is pressing Jackson, a teammate, and Roth of New York. Jackson is batting .377, Ruth .374 and E. Collins .367.

"Babe" Ruth has played only one game since the last averages were compiled and in that contest he cracked out his forty-fourth home run. His total base record was brought up to .316 and his scoring record to 134. Ruth is out of the game because of an infection on his arm, but is expected to be back in the lineup next week.

Rice of the Washington was not able to steal any bases during the past week but his 45 thefts give him a big lead over his nearest rival, Sisler, who pilfered 28.

Other leading batters: Mensel, New York, .348; Murphy, Chicago, .347; Jacobson, St. Louis, .341; Hendryx, Boston, .341; Rice, Washington, .340; Judge, Washington, .339; Weaver, Chicago, .335; Felsch, Chicago, .329; Cobb, Detroit, 326.

HARD RACE BETWEEN SOX AND INDIANS

Both Teams Start Stand at Home; Yanks in Third

BY L. R. BLANCHARD.

CHICAGO—Chicago and Cleveland appeared on Friday to be set to battle it out for first place in the American league. The Yanks, now in third place, are still a factor in the race but the block signal is set against them. The dope that seems to point this way is:

The White Sox and the Indians now on their home grounds and will stay there for twenty-two of the twenty-eight remaining games. The Yanks will be on the road most of the time and there is no getting away from the fact that traveling is a great efficiency reducer. The Yanks, however, with murderers' row functioning can overturn a lot of things and dope may be one of them. The Sox always were famous for playing their best with the "money" in sight. The Indians apparently have recovered from their slump and the merry battle is on.

The three teams were strung out on Friday with about half a game between them.

The national league chase was tightened a trifle on Thursday when the Giants crept up on Brooklyn by winning from Pittsburg, the Robins being idle. Cincinnati slid a little further to the fore by winning from St. Louis.

DAUGHERTY LIKELY TO REFEREE MATCH AT BENTON HARBOR

Official Announcement as to Referee Expected to be Made Today

MISKE WINDS UP TRAINING WITH CONFIDENCE OF WIN

Newspaper Men Throng to Grounds for Big Ring Event

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 4.—Official announcement as to who the referee of the ten round bout here Monday afternoon between Dempsey world's heavyweight champion, and Billy Miske, St. Paul, the challenger, would be was expected today with the scheduled arrival of Jack Reddy, Miske's manager.

Indications seemed favorable to the selection of Jim Daugherty of Philadelphia, a personal friend of Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns.

Although Dempsey and Miske finished their hard training yesterday they will continue to work in public this afternoon and tomorrow to satisfy the crowds.

Dempsey planned a long walk today but will do no running or jogging. If he goes into the ring late today it will be merely to take light exercise and to box a couple of rounds.

Miske said he would not tramp over the sand laden roads because the heavy going might dull his speed.

With both boxers full of pep and on their toes yesterday the final workouts were not strenuous. Both men are satisfied they have reached the peak of form and neither will attempt to do anything that will take the edge off. Dempsey looks ready and says he is eager for the battle.

"I am as fit now as I was for Willard," the champion said. "I feel as if I could box fifty rounds at top speed. I will be glad to get into the ring to convince my enemies that I am as good if not better than when I defeated Willard."

The ruddy-cheeked Miske is winding up his training supremely confident that he will hold the champion even. The challenger is not carrying an ounce of superfluous flesh. He is finely trained to 190 pounds of bone and muscle.

Dempsey, before his workout yesterday, seated 189 pounds, which is taken to indicate, experts say, that he will enter the ring weighing about 187 pounds, the same weight at which he fought Jess Willard at Toledo.

The twin resort cities of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph are rapidly filling with fight fans. The demand for rooms has exceeded the supply at hotels and boarding houses and these places are quartering three and four persons in a room. So full is Benton Harbor that it is becoming a problem to find room in the restaurants.

There has been a slight advance in prices but Mayor Rosbuck has issued a warning to restaurants not to profiteer. There have been several complaints, however, as to over-charge for sleeping accommodations. Rooms in private homes brought $8 per day and up.

OPENING GAMES OF TENNIS TOURNEY PLAYED YESTERDAY

Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien Men Going Strong for Finish Matches

The opening games of the Tri-State tennis tournament were played yesterday at the normal courts. The initial double sets were played in the morning resulting in a 6-3 and 6-2 victory for Amos and Harrison of Milwaukee over Pieper and Hanks. The Milwaukee men surprised the locals in the double sets with a fierce over-hand slash and were unable to gain any headway with the fast pair. Harrison has a strong and accurate serve. The results of the singles matches are as follows: Cornica, of Prairie du Chien won from Winterboll by default. Paddock of Milwaukee, beat Hanks, 6-4 and 6-1. Amos, of Milwaukee, beat Dvorak of La Crosse, 6-1 and 6-2. Pieper won from Saunders by default, and Jones won from Doolittle by same method. Harrison defeated Gronert, of Prairie du Chien 6-1 and 6-0. Amos, of Milwaukee, defeated Pieper, 6-2 and 6-4. Jones of Prairie du Chien defeated Harrison 7-5 and 6-2.

From the results of the opening games, the dope indicates that the finish matches will be fought out between the Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien men. Because of the inclement weather, it is doubtful whether any of the games will be played today.

ANTWERP, Sept. 4.—American army horses are entered for the events of equestrian games competitions, the concluding event of the seventh Olympiad which began today.

They will continue until September/12.

Extraordinary feats of horsemanship were proposed. Each nation was permitted six riders in the individual events and four in the team events.

The first event provided for a race of 50 kilometers, which must be covered in 3½ hours, and with five kilometers of the course across country.

The horses entering the second were to cover 20 kilometers in an hour and then immediately afterward run a 4,000-metre steeple chase.

SAFETY CARS
For South Side Line

With in ten days there will be delivered to this company eight new one-man street cars with automatic equipment which will be placed in immediate service in La Crosse on the South Side line.

As soon as the operation of these cars begin we shall be affording the local public what we firmly believe is as good street car service as any city in the United States enjoys and much better service than is to be found in most of them.

For we shall have applied in the local service the latest word in street railway vehicles—a device that is at once more economical, safer and more rapid than any street car heretofore in use.

These cars seat twenty-nine to thirty-one passengers each and their operation is so nearly automatic that one man can run them as easily as can two men the old type of car.

They are so equipped with safety-devices that they cannot be started until the door is closed and the door cannot be opened until they come to a dead stop.

The wheel base is of such extraordinary length that they ride as easily as two-truck cars.

All of the operations of starting and stopping are accomplished with the single simple movement of pressing a lever.

The entrance and exit is in front and the rear platform is entirely enclosed.

In fact, as far as the design of the car is concerned, every device has been employed to give a maximum amount of service.

One other thing is necessary, however, and this the car itself cannot supply.

It is necessary, if quick service is to be realized, that the patrons of these lines have their fares ready when they board the cars.

This is the first of a series of advertisements acquainting the public with these cars. We believe that with acquaintance will come a willingness to co-operate by having the exact fare ready.

Failure to do this will not only cause delay to yourself but to other patrons and in a measure nullify our efforts to give La Crosse the best street railway service it ever has had.
